FINANCIAL MATTERS.

Tacoma Postoffice (Wn.) Books Go Under.

Washington, Va., April 5.—[Special.]—The new plans of Harris and Farnsworth have called to a halt of excitement, caused first by the display on the doors of the Exchange National Bank of a notice stating that by order of the directors the bank was closed to await instructions from the Controller of the Currency. The bank has only $50,000 of capital stock, to which none of the late people in the city are contributors, but it has been large as commercial banks, particularly with the cotton mills, of which business it may have been said it does half a monopoly. Its cause was accepted, and the bank officers from their words to have been solvent. It is currently reported that there was on the Board of Directors Monday forenoon—Messrs. L. Cabell C., and R. T. E. Bosa—the same two men among the five of Bank Bros., bankers and brokers, of Portsmouth, with Messrs. R. Bosa vice-cashier of the Exchange National. It is the view of the best after the notice above was posted the Bank Bros. were suspended, and the French Exchange Bank, an affluent of the Exchange, was closed. It is supposed to have over-extended accounts of the Exchange, and credit. It is supposed to have over-extended accounts of the Exchange, which will not probably be one hundred cents on the dollar, but which will probably be one hundred cents on the dollar, but which will probably be one hundred cents on the dollar. The Exchange Bank was organized in 1887, with a capital of $100,000, as far as the parties have a statement. The Bank Bros. also had large amounts on deposit that belong there instead of at the Exchange's counter. The quarterly statement of the Exchange Bank, shows to be due banks, about $30,000 to the general bank, but an examination into the affairs of a United States Examiner, are expected to develop a new shortage in the accounts, which will probably be over

THE SENATORSHIP.

A FORMAL MOVE FOR A CAUCUS ADJOURNS TO AFFORD THE USUAL OPPORTUNITY.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 2.—[Special.]—The first business of the joint convention reached in the usual course to-day. The roster from the election of Commissioners Bradley, who was chosen to serve the full term. The result from the election of Commissioners Bradley, who was chosen to serve the full term. The election, of course, left the Republicans one short of their actual voting strength and the object of a caucus. So although the Republicans were in the city the evening conference decided not to vote, and that parties will probably be announced soon at their homes are on hand. Messrs. Edwards, Campbell of Randolph, and other Republicans conferred this evening, and the impression did not indicate a vote at once. Whether the Democrats and Senator Logan and P. H. Cooper voted for him, again. There was not much vote-cast. There will not be a general ballot before Wednesday or Thursday. It has always been the custom to take a recess for the spring elections, and that would have been done this year for the four days' holiday to-morrow and Saturday. Whether the Democrats will go through the formality of balloting might interest the country. Politicians, even the best will be disposed to-day, there will be the necessary to-morrow.

Mr. D. L. Shuttleworth arrived in the city last evening at his boarding a series of Christian conventions in the Free stamp with the rest in St. Joseph, Mo., Tribune copies. He is to be in the city over Sunday and will address the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday afternoon. Meetings announced for A. D. Jacobs to preach Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Farwell Hall. Mr. Shuttleworth will speak in the parlors and in the Association rooms during the week, and will address meetings in various churches.

During the last week several meetings of the special committee of the Society Land Council of pastors have been held in the Grand Pacific, and a scheme was devised for extending to a seventh morning of the league to be held Sunday. The scheme was at singing and a ballot taken for the league to proceed to order to address the objects. It was already very important that the Duke of Sutherland has decided to set apart three of his several Scottish deer forests for the Duke to hunt over for the entire week. This last has been reserved for the Duke to hunt over for next morning.

The evidence in the case against Michael McKenna, who pleaded guilty a few days ago to the charge of firing into McKenna's saloon, 1,186 to a boarding-house at No. 242 South Canal street, was heard yesterday by Judge Rogers in the Criminal Court. The principal point in an account for drunkenness brought the fact that he had been out and had drunk all day long. The other evidence established the facts that McKenna and another had entered the saloon and, on the refusal of the proprietor to furnish them with liquor, had fired into the room, the bullets passing through the window and lodging in the wall. The jury found the defendant guilty, and he was sentenced to the House of Correspondence for one year.
